Asia-Pacific Business Forum 2005
Changes, Challenges and Opportunities for Asia and the Pacific

Bangkok, Thailand, 13-15 May 2005
About the Asia-Pacific Business Forum

The Asia-Pacific Business Forum (APBF) was initiated in 2004 by the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (UNESCAP) to provide a platform for dialogue among business, governments and civil society on social and economic policy issues and their implications for the region’s economies.

This year’s forum focuses on how the public and private sectors can work together to ensure sustainable economic and social development by improving the climate for doing business, as well as through corporate social responsibility (CSR).

To assure the presence of ministers and senior government officials from across the Asia-Pacific region, the APBF is organized back-to-back with the annual UNESCAP Commission Session.

The forum will be conducted in the form of moderated panel discussions, with the active involvement of both panel discussants and participants from the floor. The discussions are expected to lead to the formulation of a plan of action with specified roles for governments, business, international organizations and civil society. The results of this plan of action will be reported to next year’s APBF, to be held in Indonesia in March/April 2006.

5 REASONS why you should not miss the APBF:

1) Participate in an action-oriented dialogue on the opportunities and challenges of doing business in Asia and the Pacific
2) Provide input to national and regional policymaking on how to improve the business climate
3) Meet leading experts on corporate social responsibility (CSR) and exchange views on the future agenda for CSR in Asia and the Pacific
4) Share your views on how the public and private sectors can jointly achieve sustained economic growth
5) Network with key business leaders and government officials from the Asian and Pacific region

e-discussion

To prepare for the Forum, UNESCAP and the World Bank Institute will jointly organize an e-discussion on CSR in Asia and the Pacific during the period 18 April – 1 May 2005. The e-discussion will collect views from a wider set of stakeholders and prepare input for the Forum. To participate in the e-discussion, please sign up via the link available at www.unescap.org/apbf
Who should attend?

- CEOs and senior corporate executives
- Senior government officials
- Representatives of business organizations
- Civil society organizations
- Academics, media and opinion leaders

Participation is free, but the number of seats is limited and balanced representation will be sought. To apply to participate, please go to www.unescap.org/apbf
